Dear Mr. Senevey:

During a recent job meeting you mentioned that it would be important for you to have correspondence from us talking about your performance. I'm always glad to write a letter of recommendation for contractors that perform as expected.

I've had the opportunity to work with you and your company on dozens of projects over the years. Our role in these projects is to observe the process. Your role is to provide the services that are described in our project manuals. In all these projects you have consistently followed the specifications in a timely manner. Your on site people are courteous and informed and represent your company well.

During the last year we had the opportunity to work together on numerous projects that included two large window projects. Both clients had problems that required a company with a high level of expertise and sufficient manpower to complete the project within a tight schedule. Both of these clients selected Complete Aluminum. One project was completed a few weeks early and the other was completed almost six month early. The condominium units were valued at an average of 2.9 million dollars. These units had valuable art, furniture, flooring etc. that required special care. At the end of the project there had been no complaints and no damages. While this result is typically expected, I found it remarkable because at times there were 10 or more men working in a particular unit at a time. The fact that your company protected each unit with silver board, tarps and plastic caused this to be a successful project.

I wouldn't hesitate to recommend you to any potential client.

Sincerely,

SLIDER ENGINEERING GROUP, INC.
